

SUBSTITUTE SPECIFICATION

The substitute specification filed 7 SEP 2001 not approved because it was not accompanied by a statement that it contains no new matter. The substitute specification was also objected to because of the following informalities which have been corrected:

- a. Page 8, last line: "isconfigured" has been replaced with "is configured"
- b. Page 10, line 12: "inwardly'through" has been replaced with " inwardly through".
- c. Page 10, line 17: the reference character "32" has been replaced with -29—which was an obvious clerical error since no reference character 32 appears on the FIGS.

The issues raised have been dealt with by making all changes noted by the Examiner. There have been no changes made to the specification that introduced any new matter to the specification. Acceptance of the substitute specification is respectfully requested. A MARKED UP VERSION SHOWING CHANGES MADE (unnumbered pages) and a SUBSTITUTE SPECIFICATION (pages 1-11) are both attached as part of the Appendix.
